

2019 IEEE Women In Engineering Leadership Summit

The 2019 IEEE Women In Engineering International Leadership Summit (ILS) at Richland, WA, hosted by Pacific Northwest National Laboratory is soliciting outstanding posters showcasing emerging technologies and policies. The poster session is an opportunity for attendees of the ILS to participate in networking while sharing their research work. Students, post-bachelors, post-masters and post-doctorates are eligible to submit abstracts for the poster session. There will be a Best Poster Award given by the IEEE Richland section.

The poster submission abstract should be limited to 500 words. The content should be technical and can span across the disciplines of engineering, science, and policy.
