On-Site IEEE Benelux Life Member Affinity Group Event:
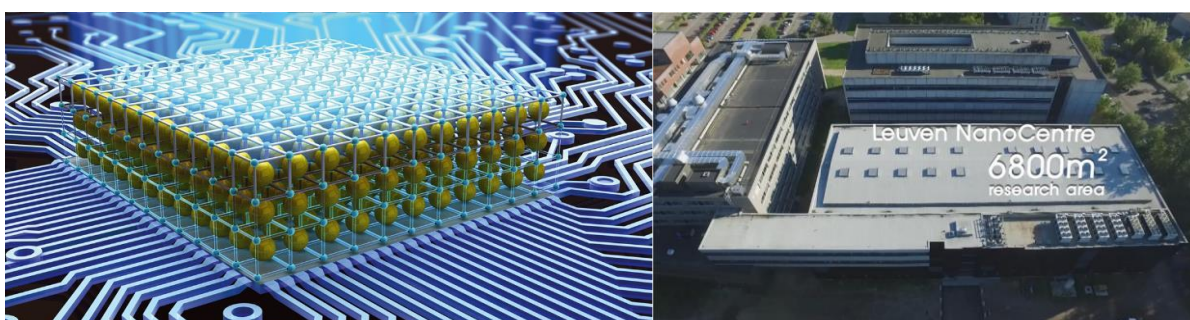

visit to LIMNI

KU Leuven Institute for Micro- and Nanoscale Integration, home to curiosity; invention; knowledge and integration

Thursday 6 October 2022 14:00-17:00

LIMNI https://limni.kuleuven.be/

LIMNI is an interdisciplinary institute for micro- and nanoscale integration. The four focus points and pillars of the research at the LIMNI institute are nanomaterial and material characterization, bio-nanosystems, nanoelectronics and physical Micro- and nanosystems. Its mission is integration and cross-fertilization between these clusters to address tomorrow's challenges in the fields of Telecommunications & Connectivity, Quality of Life, Mobility and Sustainability.

LIMNI's overarching perspective, integration of a high-end infrastructure with expertise that stretches across disciplines, stimulates the creation of ground-breaking projects and numerous innovative researches beyond. LIMNI is an excellent integrated point of access for not only consortium building but also to provide win-win valorization opportunities for both KU Leuven researchers and external partners.
