

"Inspace.chat: A better zoom replacement?"

InSpace.chat – a new video conferencing tool, inspired by improvements to zoom, uses new approaches to make the end user experience a lot more lifelike with proximity based audio, etc.

Speaker Bio: Narine Hall is an Assistant Professor and Program Director in Data Science at Champlain College, since 2015. Hall holds a Ph.D. from the University of Vermont. Hall teaches multiple UG courses in data science and has developed six new courses over the past three years.

Dr. Hall's research interests lie in multidimensional analysis using self-organizing maps (a form of neural network), data mining, tunable rugged evolutionary landscapes, machine learning, cloud computing, and computational complexity. She is the co-founder /CTO of startup BlinkSecure Inc. and previously worked at Wolfram Research, IBM Watson, and Lycos Europe. She founded Google Development Group (GDG) Cloud Burlington, is an active member of VT Women in Machine Learning and Data Science, and is a member of Women Techmakers. Currently, she advises local startups in data science and artificial intelligence strategy and implementation.

At Glance

- When:
Date: February 2nd, 2021
Time: 8:30 – 9:30 PM
EST/EDT
- Where:
Online via Inspace.chat
(requires a pre-confirmed registration)
- Audience: All eligible members and potential members (only if slots available)

*

Sponsored by IEEE
SE Michigan
Education Society
Chapter

Pre-Registration Required!

<https://events.vtools.ieee.org/m/255902>

